Vendor Information

- Our agenda will feature 15 minutes between speakers which will allow for additional whitespace time for vendors to connect with attendees between speakers.
- The conference will additionally feature numerous games such as ping pong, cornhole, connect 4 and Jenga. A fun conference translates to more people hanging out and to more opportunities to connect with business prospects.
- TLU will provide personal biographies of attendees that focuses on who they are rather than what they do. It's really important for vendors to leverage the personal biographies as they allow the vendor to accelerate connecting with attendees. This will allow vendors to understand and target prospective leads based on the value of prospects. Insight with respect to attendees' background will allow for more fruitful conversations.
- Vendors will also be able to purchase tickets for their top customers at $1,095 per ticket, whereas normal cost is $1,595 per ticket. Having a surrogate that you already do business with at the conference will allow for an organic referral. The idea is that having your best customers at the conference talking about you will be invaluable to promoting the use of your company.
